

Uncovering your organization's potential is key to deliver maximum impact on value creation

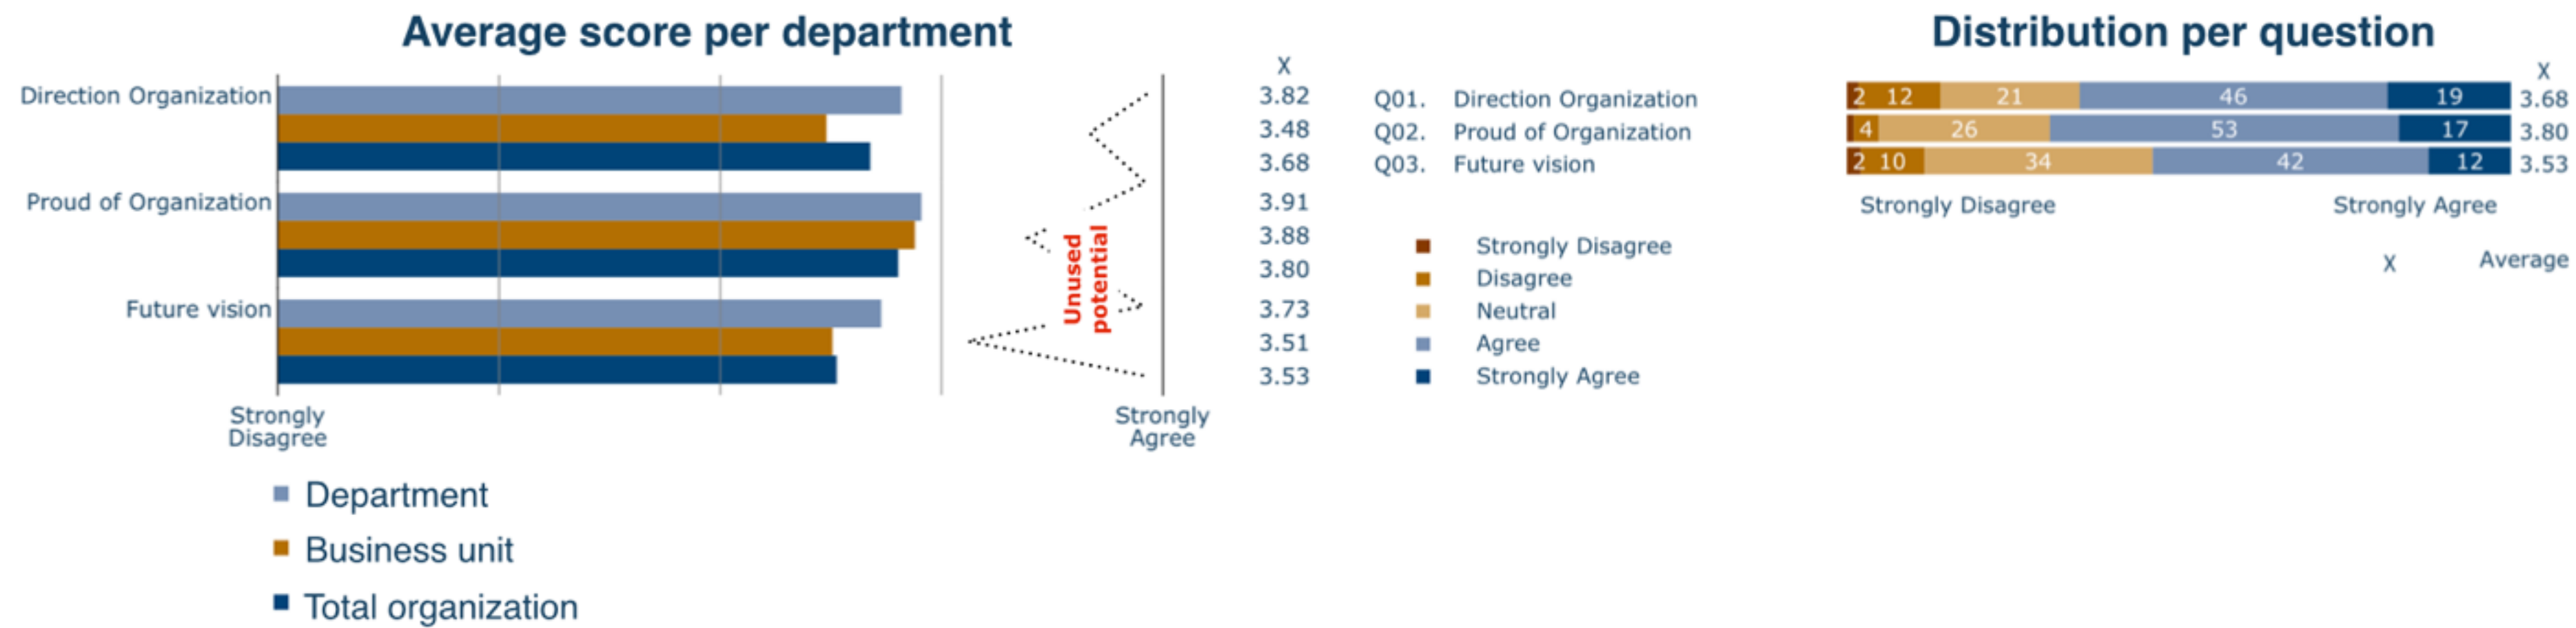

An underestimated component of sustainable value creation is return on human capital. Many organizations use no more than 50-60% of their potential.

To determine the unused potential of your organization DTG has developed the High Impact Scan. The High Impact scan is a user-friendly and result oriented tool, which consists of 13 simple and quick questions.

The scan shows where and how your employees can unlock their potential. With targeted interventions we can optimize the return on human capital.

The High Impact Scan shows opportunities and challenges of organizations, departments and teams

- With 13 short questions, and the possibility of adding 2 company-specific questions it is rapidly visible where and how the potential of the organization can be unlocked
- The scan can be used as a measuring instrument for:
 - Entire organizations
 - Departments & teams
 - Leadership development
- Thanks to re-measurements it is possible to monitor changes in unlocking potential (using KPIs and benchmarks)
